Railroad Bonds Called In By the City.

A Busy Meeting of the Council Friday Night—a New Po-liceman.

The Council meeting of Friday night being the first of the year was an important and busy one. The annual reports of the officers were submitted and filed.

The sum of $240 was appropriated to metal East Seventeenth street from Virginia to the L. & N. Railroad.

A fine of $25 assessed against J. P. Tate for selling liquor to a minor was remitted. Mr. Tate explaining that he was acting in good faith and did not intend to violate the law.

E. H. Hester was chosen a member of the fire department to succeed G. W. Thacker, who has left the city.

The school board matter was, as usual, discussed but nothing done.

The city treasurer's report showing a cash balance of $13,000, another $6,000 of the O. V. bonds were called in, reducing the bonded debt to only $70,000.

The Council signed a petition asking the Postmaster General to establish a free postal delivery service in the city, to which the city has been entitled for a year or more.

An executive session was then held and J. B. Nance was elected a policeman to succeed J. T. Greer.

TWO CANDIDATES.

Messrs. Jas. F. Rogers and L. O. Brumfield Want to go to Frankfort.

Messrs. Jas. F. Rogers, editor of the Messenger, and Lee O. Brumfield, formerly editor of the Banner, are rival candidates for the Republican nomination for representative from Christian county. It is understood that Dr. Sargent will not stand for re-election. Mr. Brumfield is out in a circular declaring his hostility to the "infamous Goebell." Mr. Rogers says he is running on a "harmony" platform and belongs to neither faction of his party.

STRAYER PROMOTED.

Christian County Boy Gets the C. & G. Run.

Mr. H. B. Strayer, who has been mail agent on the Clarksville & Gracey division of the L. & N. for several years, secured a promotion last week and now has a run on the Chicago and Nashville limited, between Evansville and Nashville. Mr. Strayer was succeeded by Mr. W. R. P'Pool of Bainbridge, an experienced mail clerk.

Mr. Strayer's salary on the new run will be $200 more than the former place paid. He ranks among the best government employees in the mail service.

DIPHTHERIA RAGING.

Two Deaths in One Family—Other Cases Reported.

Diphtheria is reported in an epidemic form in the eastern part of the county. There have been several deaths within the past two weeks and a number of children are down with the dreadful disease. Mr. J. T. Sadler has another one that is not expected to live.

Sues the L. & N.

Nelson Griffey, col., has sued the L. & N. for $150 for a horse, which he alleges was killed through their carelessness and neglect.

JUDGE FELAND DEAD.

A Victim to the Grip Followed by Erysipelas.

Was 62 Years Old and Had Been a Lawyer Nearly 40 years.

Hon. John Feland, Sr., one of the best-known lawyers in the State and a prominent Republican politician, died Sunday morning at 7 o'clock at his home in this city, after a week's illness of grip and erysipelas.

Judge John Feland was born in 1837 in Barren county, Ky. His father removed to this county, and for ten years was Postmaster at Hopkinsville. Judge Feland received a liberal education, completing his studies at Danville. He was admitted to the bar here in 1860. A year later he entered the Federal army as Quartermaster of the Third Kentucky cavalry. In 1863 he left the army and returned to Hopkinsville to resume the practice of law. When the war ended he became a partner of Gen. Ben H. Bristow, who was at one time a member of President Grant's Cabinet.

Judge Feland allied himself with the Republican party and became prominent in its councils. In 1875 he defeated Hon. James A. McKenzie for the Legislature; was re-elected in 1877 and 1879, and was presidential elector for the State at large in 1876. While a member of the lower House he edited and published the new code of practice. In 1859 he was elected to the State Senate from a district that had been Democratic. President Harrison appointed him Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second Kentucky district, and upon the expiration of his term he resumed his law practice in this city. A year or two ago Gov. Bradley appointed him a commissioner of the Western asylum; a position he also filled during Gov. Knott's administration.

Mrs. Feland and four children survive him. The latter are: William S. Feland, Deputy Collector at Henderson; John Feland, Jr., of this city; Capt. Logan Feland, Company H, Third Kentucky volunteers, and Mrs. John Gilmour, of Owensboro. The Hopkinsville Bar met yesterday morning and adopted suitable resolutions and appointed honorary pall-bearers.

The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, from the Methodist church. In the absence of Dr. Piner, Drs. Nourse and Carter officiated. The interment followed at Hopewell Cemetery.

SHUT DOWN AGAIN.

Tore Labor Troubles Occur at De-koven Mines.

Sturgis, Ky., Jan. 7.—Of labor troubles there seems to be no end. After a shutdown of four months the miners at DeKoven and the managers patch up a peace, and the men started to work, but quit again to-day on account of the company's persistence in refusing the large screen. Everything is shut down again.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

Tragic Death of Charles Pickering Near Keysburg.

Russellville, Ky., Jan. 7.—Charles Pickering, of Keysburg, this county, was waylaid and killed by an unknown party. He was taking his girl home at the time he met his death, and it is supposed that jealousy was the cause. The officers will do their best to ferret out the crime, but up to this time there is no clue.

Stops at Sebree.

Sebree has been made a flag station for the L. & N. through train No. 54, which passes here at 9:45 p.m. This will be a great convenience to the traveling public.

Best Wishes
For a Merry Christmas.

To our many friends we extend our thanks for the up to date season that we have had. Our trade so far this season has been greater than any previous season. This shows our goods were correct and our prices right. We got our goods in at the proper time and our prices sold them. So it does not require any humbug advertisement these days. The people have learned that these big advertisements don't always mean good value.

What we advertise
Is just as we say.

There is no humbug about it, nor the way we got it, nor the way we sell it. Below are a few things that we have shut our eyes to the cost and put on our Job Tables. We will sell at these prices as long as they last.

Children's Jacket and Pants, ages 6, 8, and 10. These goods are worth $3, $4 and $5, for 15c thrown out at per dozen.

COLLIDED AT CANTON.

Cumberland River Boats Came Together—Little Damage Done.

The Steamer Thomas, a Cincinnati river packet, collided with Capt. Ryman's new boat, the Richardson, at Canton Friday. Neither boat was much damaged and both were able to continue their trips. The passengers were considerably shaken up, but no one was hurt.

Mr. J. D. Ware has gone to Hot Springs, Ark., for his health.

FAMILY'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Farmer's House Fired and Occupants Have a Close Call.

The dwelling house of J. J. Gray, at Hinsleyton, near Kennedy, was destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock Friday morning, together with its contents. When the flames were discovered the roof of the building was falling in and Mr. Gray's family had a very narrow escape from a horrible death. It is not known how the building caught, but it is believed that it was the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at about $1,200 and was insured for $700.

TREATY OF PEACE. Gov. MacCorkle's Endorsement.

Text of the Document Prepared by Paris Commissioners,

And Sent to Senate by the President for Ratification, Amendment or Rejection.

Following is the full text of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain, as sent to the Senate by the President for ratification, amendment or rejection, as that body sees fit:

The United States of America and her Majesty, the Queen Regent of Spain, in the name of her august son, Don Alfonso XIII., desiring to end the state of war now existing between the two countries, have for that purpose appointed as plenipotentiaries, the President of the United States:

William R. Day, Cushman K. Davis, William P. Frye, George Gray and Whitelaw Reid, citizens of the United States.

And Her Majesty, the Queen Regent of Spain.

Don Eugenio Montero Rios, President of the Senate; Don Bueno Ventura de Arzaburu, Senator of the Kingdom and ex-Minister of the Crown; Don Jose de Garnica, Deputy to Cortes and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; Don Wenceslao Ramirez de Villa-Urrutia, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Brussels, and Don Rafael Cerero, General of Division, who having assembled in Paris and having exchanged their full powers, which were found to be in due and proper form, have, after discussion of the matters before them, agreed upon the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

Spain relinquishes all claim to sovereignty over and title to Cuba.

As the island is, upon its evacuation by Spain, to be occupied by the United States, the United States will, so long as such occupation shall last, assume and discharge the obligations that may under international law result from the fact of its occupation for the protection of life and property.

ARTICLE II.

Spain cedes to the United States the island of Port Rico and other islands now under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies and the island of Guam in the Marianas of Ladrones.

ARTICLE III.

Spain cedes to the United States the archipelago known as the Philippines Islands and comprehending the islands lying within the following line: A line running from west to east along or near the twentieth parallel of north latitude and through the middle of the navigable channel of Bachu, from the one hundred and eighteenth (18th) to the one hundred and twenty-seventh (127th) degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich; thence along to the one hundred and twenty-seventh (127th) degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich to the parallel of four degrees and forty-five minutes (4°45') north latitude to its intersection with the meridian of longitude one hundred and nineteen degrees and thirty-five minutes (119°35') east of Greenwich; thence along the meridian of longitude one hundred and nineteen degrees and thirty-five minutes (119°35') east of Greenwich to the parallel of seven degrees and forty minutes (7°40') north to its intersection with the one hundred and sixteenth (116th) degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich; thence by a direct line to the intersection of the (10th) degree parallel of north latitude with the one hundred and eighteenth (118th) degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich, and thence along the one hundred and eighteenth (118th) degree meridian of longitude east of Greenwich to the point of beginning.

The United States will pay to Spain the sum of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) within three months after the exchange of the ratifications of the present treaty.

ARTICLE IV.

The United States will, for the term of ten years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the present treaty, admit Spanish ships and merchandise to the ports

ARTICLE V.

The United States will, upon the signature of the present treaty, send back to Spain, at its own cost, the Spanish soldiers taken as prisoners of war on the capture of Manila by the American forces. The arms of the soldiers in question shall be restored to them.

In the aforesaid relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, includes all documents exclusively referring to the sovereignty relinquished or ceded that may exist in the archives of the Peninsula. Where any document in such archives only in part relates to such sovereignty, a copy of such part will be furnished whenever it shall be requested. Like rules shall be reciprocally observed in favor of Spain in respect to documents in the archives of the islands above referred to.

In the aforesaid relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, are also included such rights as the Crown of Spain and its authorities possess in respect of the official archives and records, executive as well as judicial, in the islands above referred to which relate to said islands or the rights and property of their inhabitants. Such archives and records shall be carefully preserved and private persons shall without distinction have the right to require, in accordance with law, authenticated copies of the contracts, wills and other instruments forming part of the notarial protocols or files, or which may be contained in the executive or judicial archives, the latter in Spain or in the islands aforesaid.

tions of the present treaty, including all claims for indemnity for the cost of the war.

The United States will adjudicate and settle the claims of its citizens against Spain relinquished in this article.

ARTICLE VIII.

In conformity with the provisions of Articles I. II. and III. of this treaty, Spain relinquishes in Cuba, and cedes in Porto Rico and other islands in the West Indies, in the island of Guam and in the Philippine archipelago, all the buildings, wharves, barracks, forts, structures, public highways and other immovable property which, in conformity with law, belong to the public domain, and as such belong to the Crown of Spain.

And it is hereby declared that the relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, to which the preceding paragraph refers, can not in any respect impair the property or rights which by law belong to the peaceful possession of property of all kinds, of provinces, municipalities, public or private establishments, ecclesiastical or civic bodies, or any other associations having legal capacity to acquire and possess property in the aforementioned territories renounced or ceded, or of private individuals, for whatever nationality individuals may

The aforesaid relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, includes all documents exclusively referring to the sovereignty relinquished or ceded that may exist in the archives of the Peninsula. Where any document in such archives only in part relates to such sovereignty, a copy of such part will be furnished whenever it shall be requested. Like rules shall be reciprocally observed in favor of Spain in respect to documents in the archives of the islands above referred to.

In the aforesaid relinquishment or cession, as the case may be, are also included such rights as the Crown of Spain and its authorities possess in respect of the official archives and records, executive as well as judicial, in the islands above referred to which relate to said islands or the rights and property of their inhabitants. Such archives and records shall be carefully preserved and private persons shall without distinction have the right to require, in accordance with law, authenticated copies of the contracts, wills and other instruments forming part of the notarial protocols or files, or which may be contained in the executive or judicial archives, the latter in Spain or in the islands aforesaid.

ARTICLE IX.

Spanish subjects, natives of the peninsula, residing in the territory over which Spain by the present treaty relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty may remain in such territory or may remove therefrom, retaining in either event all their rights of property, including the right to sell or dispose of such property or of its proceeds; and they shall also have the right to carry on their industry, commerce and professions, being subject in respect thereto to such laws as are applicable to other foreigners. In case they remain in the territory they may preserve their allegiance to the crown of Spain by making before a court of record within a year from the date of the exchange of ratifications of this treaty a declaration of their decision to preserve such allegiance; in default of which declaration they shall be held to have renounced it and to have adopted the nationality of the territory in which they may reside.

The civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territories hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by the Congress.

ARTICLE X.

The inhabitants of the territories over which Spain relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty shall be secured in the free exercise of their religion.

ARTICLE XI.

The Spaniards residing in the territories over which Spain by this treaty cedes or relinquishes her sovereignty shall be subject in matters civil as well as in criminal to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country where they reside pursuant to the ordinary laws governing the same; and they shall have the right to appear before such courts as citizens of the country to which the courts belong.

ARTICLE XII.

Judicial proceeding pending at the same time of the exchange of ratifications of this treaty in the territories over which Spain relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty shall be determined according to the following rules:

First—Judgments rendered either in civil suits between private individuals or in criminal matters, before the date mentioned, and with respect to which there is no recourse or right of review under the Spanish law, shall be deemed to be final, and shall be executed in due form by competent authority in the territory within which such judgments should be carried out.

Second—Civil suits between private individuals which may on the date mentioned be undetermined shall be prosecuted to judgment before the court in which they may then be pending, or in the court that may be substituted therefor.

Third—Criminal actions pending on the date mentioned before the Supreme Court of Spain against the citizens of the territory which by this treaty ceases to be Spanish, shall continue under its jurisdiction until final judgement; but such judgment having been rendered, the execution thereof shall be committed to the competent authority of the place in which the case arose.

ARTICLE XIII.

The rights of property secured by copyrights and patents acquired by Spaniards in the island de Cuba and Porto Rico, the Philippines and other ceded territories at the time of the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, shall continue to be respected. Spanish scientific, literary and artistic works, not subversive of public order, shall continue to be admitted free of duty into such territories, for the period of ten years, to be reckoned from the date of the exchange of ratifications of this treaty.

ARTICLE XIV.

Spain will have the power to establish consular offices in the ports and places of the territories, the sovereignty over which has been either relinquished or ceded by the present treaty.

ARTICLE XV.

The Government of each country will, for the term of ten years, accord to the merchant vessels of the other country the same treatment in respect of all port charges, including entrance and clearance dues, light dues and tonnage dues, as it accords to its own merchant vessels, not engaged in the coastwise trade.

This article may at any time be terminated on six month's notice given by either Government to the other.

ARTICLE XVI.

It is understood that any obligations assumed in this treaty by the United States with respect to Cuba are limited to the time of its occupancy thereof; but if it will, upon the termination of such occupancy, advise any Government established in the island to assume the same obligations.

ARTICLE XVII.

The present treaty shall be ratified by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by her Majesty, the Queen Regent of Spain; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington within six months from the date hereof, or earlier if possible.

In faith whereof, we, the respective plenipotentiaries, have signed this treaty and have hereunto affixed our seals.

Done in duplicate at Paris, the tenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nine.

FROM PADUCAH.

Comes This Interesting Piece Of News.

It is reported on what claims to be good authority that Mr. R. C. Watkins, traveling freight agent of the Illinois Central railroad, has brought suit against Hopkinsville against the Illinois Central Railroad company for $200,000 for injuries sustained in an accident at DeKoven, Ky., last spring. The cause of the accident was the blowing up of the heater pipe in a coach. Several persons were more or less injured, Mr. Watkins most of all. His leg was broken, and he was in the railroad hospital here for several weeks. It is said he has never recovered from the accident, and has made three trips to New York to consult specialists.

It is said that Judge Henry Burnett, of this city, and Judge Jas. B. Garnett, of Trigg, have been retained as Mr. Watkins' attorneys.—Paducah Visitor.

WORMS OR NUT?

Ralph Waldo Emerson and the Woodpecker Story

No squirrel works harder at his pine nut harvest than the carpenter woodpeckers in autumn at their acorn harvest, says John Muir, in the Atlantic, drilling holes in the thick, corky bark of the yellow pine and incense cedar, in which to store the crop for winter use; a hole for each acorn so nicely adjusted as to size that when the acorn, point foremost, is driven in, it fits so well that it cannot be drawn out without digging around it. Each acorn is thus carefully stored in a dry bin, perfectly protected from the weather, a most laborious method of storing away a crop, a granary for each kernel. Yet they never seem to weary at the work, but go on so diligently they seem determined that every acorn in the grove shall be saved. They are never seen eating acorns at the time they are storing them, and it is commonly believed that they never eat them or intend to eat them, but that the wise birds store them and protect them solely for the sake of the worms they are supposed to contain.

And because these worms are too small for use at the time the acorns drop, they are shut up like lean calves and steers each in a separate stall with abundance of food to grow big and fat by the time they will be most wanted, that is in winter, when insects are scarce and stalked worms most valuable. So these woodpeckers are supposed to be a sort of cattle raisers, each with a drove of thousands, rivaling the ants that raise grain and keep herds of plant lice for milk cows. Needless to say, the story is not true, though some naturalists even believe it. When Emerson was in the park, having heard the worm story, and seen the great pine plumbed full of acorns, he asked "Why do the woodpeckers take the trouble to put acorns into the bark of the trees?" "For the same reason," I replied, "that bees store honey and squirrels nuts." "But they tell me, Mr. Muir, that woodpeckers don't eat acorns." "Yes, they do," I said, "I have seen them eating them. During snowstorms they seem to eat little besides acorns. I have repeatedly interrupted them at their meals, and seen the perfectly sound, half-eaten acorns. They eat them in the shell as some people eat eggs." "But what about the worms?" "I suppose," I said, "that when they come to a wormy one they eat both worm and acorn. Anyhow, they eat the sound ones when they can't find anything they like better, and from the time they store them until they are used they guard them, and woe to the squirrel or jay caught stealing."

The 22 years that Rev. Dr. Morrison has devoted to successive congregations within the walls of two Epiphany churches represents a longer incumbency than that of any other Chicago cleric in active service except Bishop McGuire. He has always been an indefatigable and enthusiastic worker and his success as a pastor, as well as his personal love and honor from his flock. While other churches have suffered diminution of revenues, the Church of the Epiphany has prospered and grown larger rapidly. The church was organized in 1861 and Rev. Dr. Morrison was its fourth pastor.

Rev. Dr. Morrison was married in Chicago to the youngest daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Swazey, of the Third Presbyterian church. He has five children.

PROF. LANGLEY'S WORK.

A Curious Pagan Superstition Still Practiced in Russia.

The interest which the European powers are taking in dying machines as engines of war and the work accomplished with the use of balloons during our late unpleasantness with Spain have awakened Uncle Sam to the fact that if an actually successful airship were invented it would be the owner of it. As a result of this awakening the board of ordnance and fortification has appropriated the sum of $25,000 to be used in the investigation of machines for reconnoitering purposes and engines of destruction in time of war.

Prof. S. P. Langley, of the Smithsonian institution, has designed a machine which is said to be the best in the world. It is a large, four-bladed propeller, with a central vertical mast, and a horizontal rudder. The machine is to be suspended from a wire, and is to be controlled by a wire attached to the rudder.

If Commissioner Randall charged

John Kipling the frequent guest of Thomas Pinder, senior member of the pottery firm in Staffordshire. He was a clever, industrious fellow, much given to work and little given to gaiety. He cared not a bit for the wiles of the country maid in his neighborhood, but plodded along with his daily work. There may have been a pretty face peeping at him from his frieze, or a graceful figure among his plaster casts, but they were evolved from his brain; his heart was not touched.

John Kipling was the frequent guest of Thomas Pinder, senior member of the pottery firm, who had taken a great fancy to the young man.

One day, in the form of good Mme. Pinder, worked a change in the heart of John Kipling. Mrs. Pinder gave a picnic on the banks of a sheet of water called Rudyard lake. As usual, John was one of the guests—a guest who had reason to remember the picnic forever. To most of those present it was simply a jolly, pleasant day out. To John Kipling it was a day above all days, for there he met a certain person who ever after held his thoughts. That certain person was Mary McDonald, a winsome English girl, whom John, after a happy wooing, married.

Together they left the shores of England and went to India, where Rudyard Kipling was born. And in memory of the little lake where they met they named their little boy Rudyard.—N. Y. Herald.

Lack of Lime.

A medical scientist is authority for the statement that children, and old people especially, suffer from a lack of lime in the system. Persons who habitually drink soft water, while they may enjoy immunity from certain of the ills of life, expose themselves to others, perhaps quite as much to be avoided. Hard water helps the teeth and the bones by furnishing lime, which is necessary to health, growth and development. Old persons who drink but little lose their teeth more quickly than those who take a reasonable amount of drinking water. Lime or food products in which it abounds should be a part of the regular supply furnished to the system. One of the most valuable vegetables for this purpose is the yellow turnip or rutabaga.

Death Rate.

Of 1,000,000 babies, 30,000 are likely to die of accident, 30,000 by remote preventable diseases, like consumption, 120,000 by absolutely preventable diseases like typhoid, measles, smallpox and scarlet fever. Only one in 20 will die of old age. Look out for

GOOD CLERICAL STORIES.

Little Anecdotes Related by Dean Pigeon of England

Dean Pigeon of Eng., has written a book in which there are some clever stories of his clerical experiences. There was a verger, for instance, who was asked by the bishop of Wakefield if he noticed that the people availed themselves of the open church door to pray privately. "Yes, my lord," replied the verger; "I ketched two of 'em at it only the other day."

The curates, too, are an inexhaustible fund of amusement. One of them a new one, paid his first visit to an old lady, who at once said in broad Yorkshire: "Eh! you're the new curate ain't you?"

"Yes, I am."

"Well, now, I'll tell you what yet does when you comes to see me. You takes that stool, d'ye see? You sits down, reads me a short—mind, a short—psalm. You give me a shilling, and then ye can go."

FREEDOM OF LONDON.

Ceremonies Attending the Great Distinction in England

Among the host of other things which Lord Kitchener has been asked to do by a grateful nation is the freedom of the city of London. This freedom can be obtained in four different ways—by patrimony, the sons of freemen being entitled on attaining their majority, to be enrolled as a master of right; by servitude or apprenticeship to a master who is already a freeman; by redemption or purchase; by gift conferred by the corporation, or by means of a coronation cause. If it is a woman's duty to think about her husband, she should think once for herself, and once for the man who has chosen her.

If she is suffering from a torturing, distinguish weakness or disease so prevalent with the women of England that she cannot until her health is restored.

If she does, she will be writhed and ill herself and her son will be an unhappy son.
